

GENESYS Disclaimer

The data providers to GENESYS independently manage the information stored in, or made accessible to GENESYS. Users must contact the specific data providing institute(s) directly, with any questions or comments regarding information stored in GENESYS and for queries regarding the germplasm held in a specific institute(s). The contact person for each institute can be found here by using the FAO Institute Code that accompanies every accession.

The responsibility of managing requests created using the GENESYS requesting module remains with the individual institute(s) to where the request is directed. Therefore, GENESYS and Bioversity International, as GENESYS' legal host entity, will not be held responsible for any errors or negligence in handling the request, or for the inability to fulfill any request. Once a request is completed via the online requesting module, the party requesting the germplasm will be sent a summary of the request specifying the institute(s) which will be processing the request, corresponding contact details, a copy of this Disclaimer and the GENESYS Terms and Conditions of Use. Possible claims and complaints related to germplasm requests must be addressed to the specific institute(s) concerned, and not to GENESYS.

Should the internet service providers, or the facilities associated with the GENESYS requesting module fail, due to causes beyond the control of GENESYS or Bioversity, neither GENESYS nor Bioversity will be held responsible for any delays in transmission, delivery, or fulfillment of requests due to these failures.
